24 the Complaint, which accompanies this request for judicial notice. This request is based on this 25 notice, the following Memorandum of Points and Authorities, the records in this case, and any 26 further oral or written information or evidence presented prior to the Court's decision on 27 Defendants' Motion to Dismiss the Complaint..

1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 This is a securities class action lawsuit against Leap Wireless International, Inc. ("Leap"),
 3 six of Leap's officers and directors, and Leap's independent outside auditor,
 4 PricewaterhouseCoopers, LLP ("PwC"). Plaintiff alleges violations of Section 10(b) and 20(a)
 5 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 based on alleged misrepresentations and omissions in 6 Leap's press releases and public filings with the Securities Exchange Commission ("SEC") and 7 in Leap's public conference calls during the alleged Class Period. Leap has filed a Motion to 8 Dismiss Plaintiff's Consolidated Class Action Complaint ("Complaint") on the ground that it
 9 fails to plead facts sufficient to state a claim under the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act
 10 ("PSLRA") and Rules 8(a), 9(b) and 12(b)(6).

11 This Court is asked to take judicial notice of the following items: (1) Leap's press
 12 releases which were all filed on SEC Form 8-K; (2) Leap's quarterly and annual SEC Form 10-Q
 13 and SEC Form 10-K filings; (3) certain statements of accounting and auditing standards
 14 published by the Financial Accounting Standards Board and the Public Company Accounting
 15 Oversight Board; and (4) Leap's 2006 Annual Report to Shareholders. Leap's SEC filings, press
 16 releases and 2006 Annual Report are all expressly referenced in the Complaint and selectively
 17 quoted by Plaintiff. In addition, the accounting standards are relevant to the criteria for, and 18 purpose of, assessing the adequacy of Plaintiff's allegations under the rigorous pleading
 19 standards established by the PSLRA, that Defendants engaged in fraudulent misrepresentation of 20 its publicly reported financial statements and made fraudulent assessments of the effectiveness of 21 its internal controls over financial reporting.

22 As set forth more fully below, judicial notice of Exhibits A through S is appropriate, and 23 Leap's Request for Judicial Notice should be granted.

24 II. DISCUSSION

25 A. Standard for Judicial Notice

26 In ruling on motions to dismiss in securities cases, "courts must consider the complaint in 27 its entirety, as well as other sources courts ordinarily examine when ruling on Rule 12(b)(6)
 28 motions, in particular, documents incorporated into the complaint by reference, and matters of

1 which a court may take judicial notice.” Tellabs, Inc. v. Makor Issues & Rights, Ltd., 127 S. Ct.
 2 2499, 2509 (2007). Judicial notice may be taken of any adjudicative fact that is “capable of
 3 accurate and ready determination by resort to sources whose accuracy cannot reasonably be
 4 questioned.” Fed. R. Evid. 201(b)(2).

5 Courts routinely take judicial notice of documents that are publicly available and 6 referenced in the complaint, particularly SEC filings. See, e.g., Branch v. Tunnell, 14 F.3d 449,
 7 454 (9th Cir. 1994) (overruled on other grounds) (documents whose contents are alleged in a
 8 complaint and whose authenticity no party questions are properly considered in ruling on a
 9 12(b)(6) motion without converting it to a motion for summary judgment); Fecht v. Price Co., 70
 10 F.3d 1078, 1080, n.1 (9th Cir. 1995) (the full text of documents relied upon in a complaint 11 alleging securities fraud may be considered on a motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim); 12 Kramer v. Time Warner, Inc., 937 F.2d 767 (2d Cir. 1991) (court may properly take judicial 13 notice of SEC filings on a motion to dismiss); In re Silicon Graphics Inc. Sec. Litig., 183 F.3d
 14 970, 986 (9th Cir. 1999) (taking judicial notice of SEC Form 4 filings); Cummings v. Koninklijke
 15 Philips Elecs., 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 23383, *10 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 25, 2002) (taking judicial 16 notice of SEC proxy filings).

17 The strong congressional policies in the PSLRA (15 U.S.C. § 78u-4) underscore the need
 18 for courts to take judicial notice of readily ascertainable corporate disclosures in considering 19 motions to dismiss. The PSLRA was prompted by “significant evidence of abuse in private 20 securities lawsuits.” H.R. Conf. Rep. No. 104-369, 104th Cong., 2d Sess. ¶ 301 (Nov. 28, 1995).
 21 Congress chose reforms designed to weed out speculative securities suits at the pleading stage.
 22 Accordingly, when investors claim “fraud” on the basis of alleged omissions and 23 misrepresentations in publicly available documents, courts must take judicial notice of those 24 documents. Otherwise, a plaintiff bringing a meritless claim could easily overcome a motion to 25 dismiss and gain the right to engage in extensive discovery simply by selectively choosing
 26 portions of the defendant’s public statements out of context. See Parrino v. FHP, Inc., 146 F.3d
 27 699, 705-06 (9th Cir. 1998) (plaintiff cannot survive a motion to dismiss by omitting references
 28 to documents upon which their claims were based); Trew v. International Game Fish Ass’n, Inc., 404 F. Supp. 2d 1173, 1176 n.2 (N.D. Cal. 2005) (when a complaint expressly refers to a document, the court may consider that document in a motion to dismiss without converting it to a motion for summary judgment). The PSLRA was intended to prevent such abusive securities litigation practices by raising the bar for plaintiffs.

B. The Court Should Judicially Notice Exhibits A through S.

1. Leap's Press Releases

Leap requests that the Court take judicial notice of Leap's press releases (Exhibits A and L through P), which were filed with the SEC on Form 8-K. In the Complaint, Plaintiff quotes extensively, but selectively from each of these press releases. See Compl. ¶¶ 74, 83, 96, 117, 129, 134. Under the incorporation by reference doctrine, a district court, when adjudicating a motion to dismiss, may consider documents outside the complaint "[i]f plaintiff fails to attach to the complaint the documents on which it is based." See In re Pacific Gateway Exchange, Inc., 169 Supp. 2d 1160, 1164 (N.D. Cal. 2001) (citation omitted); Tellabs, 127 S. Ct. at 2509. Moreover, as discussed below, judicial notice of documents filed with the SEC is appropriate under Federal Rule of Evidence 201(b)(2). Kramer, 937 F.2d at 774.

2. Leap's Filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission

Leap requests that the Court take judicial notice of Exhibits B through K which consist of Leap's quarterly and annual SEC Form 10-Q and SEC Form 10-K filings. Leap offers excerpts, rather than complete filings, to avoid burdening the Court with unrelated discussion and information, and to focus attention on the relevant portions of the filings that concern the matters alleged in the Complaint. The complete filings are readily available on the internet and can be accessed directly from the SEC's website at <http://www.sec.gov> or through Leap's website, at <http://www.leapwireless.com>.

In the Complaint, Plaintiff references and selectively quotes from Leap's SEC filings. See, e.g., Compl. ¶¶ 77, 79, 81, 101. It is proper for the Court to take judicial notice of Leap's SEC filings for two reasons. First, as the authority set forth above makes clear, courts routinely take judicial notice of documents filed with the SEC when relevant to the allegations of misrepresentations, as alleged here. Second, it is proper for the Court to judicially notice these exhibits under the doctrine of incorporation by reference. See Pacific Gateway Exchange, 169 Supp. 2d at 1164.

3. Leap's 2006 Annual Report to Shareholders

Leap requests that the Court take judicial notice of Exhibit S, Leap's 2006 Annual Report to Shareholders. In the Complaint, Plaintiff quotes certain selected portions of the Annual Report. See Compl. ¶¶ 105, 107, 109. Under the incorporation by reference doctrine, a district court, when adjudicating a motion to dismiss, may consider documents outside the complaint "[i]f plaintiff fails to attach to the complaint the documents on which it is based." See Pacific Gateway Exchange, 169 Supp. 2d at 1164; Tellabs, 127 S. Ct. at 2509. Further, Leap's 2006 Annual Report is readily available on Leap's website, at <http://www.leapwireless.com>, and its contents are not subject to reasonable dispute. It is appropriate for this Court to take judicial notice of Exhibit S pursuant to Fed. R. Evid. 201.

4. Accounting Standards

Leap requests that the Court take judicial notice of Exhibits Q and R which consists of relevant excerpts from the Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 154 and the PCAOB Auditing Standard ("AS") No. 5. The central claims and allegations in the Complaint concern Leap's financial restatement of its financial results for the years 2004, 2005, 2006, and the first two quarters of 2007, as well as Leap's alleged failure to disclose material weaknesses in its internal controls. Compl. ¶¶ 6-14. Restatements are governed by GAAP and, specifically, by SFAS No. 154, which sets out requirements regarding reporting of accounting changes and correction of errors. SFAS No. 154 is relevant to the criteria for, and purpose of, a restatement to correct Leap's historical accounting errors. In addition, AS No. 5 sets out the standards and relevant definitions for a company and its auditor to evaluate the effectiveness of its internal controls and the existence of "material weaknesses," a term of art defined by AS No. 5.

Such accounting standards are often cited by courts and parties in cases involving alleged GAAP violations. See, e.g., In re CNET Networks, Inc., 483 F. Supp. 2d 947, 955 (N.D. Cal. 2007) (discussing GAAP for stock option accounting under APB 25); In re Zoran Corp.

1 Derivative Litig., 511 F. Supp. 2d 986, 1003 (N.D. Cal. 2007 (same); In re FVC.COM Sec. Litig.,
2 32 Fed. App. 338, 341 (9th Cir. 2002) (discussing APB 20 and SFAS 48 in connection with
3 analysis of alleged misapplication of GAAP); In re Commtouch Software Ltd., 2002 U.S. Dist.
4 LEXIS 13742, at *22-25 (N.D. Cal. 2002) (discussing and interpreting APB 20 regarding 5 restatements); Payne v. Deluca, 433 F. Supp. 2d 547, 577 (W.D. Pa. 2006) (same).

6 Because SFAS No. 154 and AS No. 5 are both readily ascertainable and their contents are 7 not subject to reasonable dispute, it is appropriate for this Court to take judicial notice of 8 Exhibits Q and R pursuant to Fed. R. Evid. 201.

9 III. CONCLUSION

10 For the foregoing reasons, Leap respectfully requests that the Court take judicial notice of 11 Exhibits A through S.
